

National Service in North Carolina

MEETING COMMUNITY NEEDS IN NORTH CAROLINA

More than 9,200 people of all ages and backgrounds are helping to meet local needs, strengthen communities, and increase civic engagement through national service in North Carolina. Serving at more than 1,100 locations throughout the state, these citizens tutor and mentor children, support veterans and military families, provide health services, restore the environment, respond to disasters, increase economic opportunity, and recruit and manage volunteers.

This year, the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) will commit more than $26,290,000 to support North Carolina communities through national service initiatives. CNCS invests in cost-effective community solutions--working hand in hand with local partners to improve lives, expand economic opportunity, and engage citizens in solving problems in their communities. Serving in many of the state's most impoverished communities, CNCS provides vital support to schools, food banks, homeless shelters, community health clinics, youth centers, veterans service facilities, and other nonprofit and faith-based organizations at a time of growing demand for services. Through a unique public-private partnership, this federal investment will leverage an additional $8,790,000 in other resources to strengthen community impact, build local support, and increase return on taxpayer dollars.

AmeriCorps: This year AmeriCorps will provide more than 1,900 individuals the opportunity to provide intensive, results-driven service to meet education, environmental, health, economic, and other pressing needs in communities across North Carolina. Most AmeriCorps grant funding goes to the North Carolina Commission on Volunteerism and Community Service, which in turn awards grants to nonprofit groups to respond to local needs. Most of the remainder of the grant funding is distributed by CNCS directly to multi-state and national organizations through a competitive grants process. Other individuals serve through AmeriCorps VISTA, whose members help bring individuals and communities out of poverty by serving full-time to fight illiteracy, improve health services, create businesses, and increase housing opportunities, and AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps), a 10-month, full time residential program for men and women between the ages of 18 and 24. In exchange for their service, AmeriCorps members earn an education award that can be used to pay for college or to pay back qualified student loans. Since 1994, more than 17,000 North Carolina residents have served more than 23 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $49,600,000.

Senior Corps: More than 7,200 seniors in North Carolina contribute their time and talents in one of three Senior Corps programs. Foster Grandparents serve one-on-one as tutors and mentors to more than 2,100 young people who have special needs. Senior Companions help more than 1,100 homebound seniors and other adults maintain independence in their own homes. RSVP volunteers conduct safety patrols, renovate homes, protect the environment, tutor and mentor youth, respond to natural disasters, and provide other services through more than 490 groups across North Carolina.

Social Innovation Fund: The Social Innovation Fund transforms lives and communities using limited federal investment as a catalyst to grow the impact of nonprofits with evidence of strong results. It harnesses the expertise of grantmaking intermediaries to identify, evaluate and expand effective nonprofits and engages funding partners to contribute nearly three dollars to every one federal dollar invested. As the Social Innovation Fund network grows programs that work in North Carolina, more people are able to overcome their most pressing challenges in the areas of economic opportunity, health, and youth development. The Social Innovation Fund is investing $2,100,000 in expanding the impact of 3 nonprofits in North Carolina.

The Corporation for National and Community Service is a federal agency that improves lives, strengthens communities, and fosters civic engagement through service and volunteering. CNCS annually engages more than five million Americans in service to meet local needs through Senior Corps, AmeriCorps, and national days of service; improves communities through the Social Innovation Fund, and leads President Obama's national call to service initiative, United We Serve. - Notes: The data shown represents a snapshot in time. CNCS project sites, participants, and funding change throughout the year, so the data may not reflect current conditions.
- This figure represents the number of awarded positions available to be filled in the 2013 - 2014 program year. For AmeriCorps VISTA, this represents the actual number of VISTA members in active service.
  - This figure represents the maximum potential value of Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards that can be earned by AmeriCorps members serving in North Carolina. The award can be used in any state to pay for college, graduate school, vocational training, or to pay back student loans. The education award total is included in total CNCS funding.
  - AmeriCorps National figures may include national programs headquartered in the state and/or operating sites of national programs that are headquartered in other states. Funding reflects the estimated proportionate share of the national grant associated with operating sites in this report. Some national organizations do not report operating site data, or it was not available at time of publishing, so figures may not reflect current conditions.
  - The service location total may contain multiple counts of unique locations where multiple CNCS programs are operating.
  - As part of its public-private partnership approach, CNCS requires grantees to leverage additional resources to strengthen community impact and increase the return on the federal investment. This figure reflects non-CNCS cash and in-kind resources that CNCS grantees and project sponsors have committed to raise to support their programming activities across the state.

Since 1994, more than 17,000 North Carolina residents have served more than 23 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $49,600,000.

National Service Impact in North Carolina

AmeriCorps

The AmeriCorps ACCESS Project helps immigrants and refugees gain access to human services and become economically self-sufficient. In the 2011-2012 program year, 60 ACCESS members served at 30 nonprofit agency sites across North Carolina, providing interpreter services, teaching English, and referring newcomers to human services. Approximately 20 of the bilingual ACCESS members provided 5,161 interpretation services to 1,999 clients, saving agencies $206,440 in interpreter fees. Additionally, seven ACCESS members who specialized in volunteer management recruited 559 volunteers who provided 7,776 hours of community service, valued at $148,444, including tutoring children and adults, providing childcare, transportation, teaching English, and helping with agency events. More than $192,000 in cash and $258,000 of in-kind services were generated by partner organizations to support the project.

AmeriCorps NCCC

AmeriCorps NCCC Team Delta 3 worked with Habitat for Humanity of Goldboro-Wayne County to construct an energy efficient house for a family. The team framed the house, built walls, placed roof trusses, and led YouthBuild volunteers. The team also built a simulated roof for future training purposes, measuring 400 square feet. A family of six is the direct beneficiary of safe and decent housing built by NCCC Team Delta 3. Team members gained leadership skills and also learned how to properly and safely use construction tools.

AmeriCorps VISTA

North Carolina Campus Compact's AmeriCorps VISTA project is at work in Chapel Hill's Northside neighborhood, where low-income homeowners and residents face increasing pressure from rising rents, high property taxes, and student housing development. The Marian Cheek Jackson Center supports community development programs, including a food pantry, home repair program, and referrals to other providers. For two years, AmeriCorps VISTA members have built the Center's capacity by coordinating volunteers, creating programs with UNC Chapel Hill and other local agencies, and developing new administrative systems. Each month, the food pantry serves 5,000 residents and engages dozens of community volunteers. An annual clinic helps 20 elderly homeowners with estate planning; housing repair projects have improved eight homes; and community check-ins allow staff to identify housing issues, orient new residents, and share neighborhood news.

Senior Corps

One-third of families and individuals in Buncombe County do not have enough income to be self-sufficient. In 2012, 101 RSVP volunteers from Land-of-Sky RSVP volunteered across the region helping human service agencies meet requests for basic necessities. RSVP volunteers assisted 25,619 clients during crisis situations to provide food, shelter, income, and housing assistance. As a result, 96 percent of clients reported they are less stressed and better able to care for their families.

Social Innovation Fund

Children's Home Society of North Carolina (CHSNC) provides a range of services to youth, with an emphasis on child welfare. With their initial Social Innovation Fund subgrant of two million dollars through intermediary the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation and their dollar-for-dollar nonfederal matching funds, they will expand their Family Finding and Wise Guys programs. The first is an intensive intervention to identify and engage family members and other resources in the lives of youth who are in or aging out of foster care. Family Finding staff members are specially trained, carry small caseloads, and spend three to four months working with each youth. Wise Guys is a 12-session teen pregnancy prevention program that informs middle-school males about appropriate sexual behavior, including abstinence and contraception, as well as communication and healthy relationships. With this investment, CHSNC plans to implement rigorous evaluations of the programs and to serve 350-500 youth aged 9-24 through Family Finding, and 600 to 1,100 young people through Wise Guys between 2012 and 2014.
